EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This Annual Report highlights the progress achieved in the implementation of the YMCA of Lebanon Emergency Medical Assistance program during CY'90 despite serious environmental crises.

The program's main focus is to provide essential medicines to the chronically ill, who are economically poor, war displaced, and in a particularly vulnerable situation.

Program beneficiaries became eligible for medicines on the basis of need, regardless of religious sect, ethnic group, political party, age, gender or territorial residence. A breakdown of program beneficiaries by eligibility criteria shows: (1) 30 per cent widows and elderly; (2) 21 per cent socio-economic cases; (3) 21 per cent unemployed; (4) 13 per cent large families subsisting on or below minimum wage; (5) 7 per cent needy disabled; (6) 6 per cent families with disabled/chronically ill members surviving at less than US$. 50 per month; and (7) 2 per cent poverty stricken single parent family supporting one or more orphans.

The total number of treatments provided with essential medicines from the program, through a country-wide network of 110 partner dispensaries reached 274,026 by year end. Of these 119,966 treatments were offered to chronically ill patients and 154,060 treatments to non-chronic patients. Moreover, the program assisted with medicines 11,701 patients through 39 social welfare institutions and not-for-profit hospitals, and provided para-medical assistance to 2,000 families.

Program computerized data base lists every one of the patients by name, eligible criterion, date and place of birth, name and quantity of medicines delivered by reference, and name and address of health facility involved.

The total value of medicines provided to the target population amounted to US$. 1,645,992. The bulk of assistance valued at US$. 1,304,022 was administered through partner dispensaries and the amount of US$. 341,970 was disbursed on medicines via institutions and for para-medical assistance to families. The unit cost to the program per patient treatment at partner dispensaries averaged about US$. 4.76.

Program achievements were made possible with financial and in-kind support from 15 donor agencies and the YMCA local constituency.

We seize upon this opportunity to express on behalf of all program beneficiaries and their families deepest gratitude for the vital support our valued donors have continued to provide and for the dedication and efficiency of our delivery system partners, especially in the most difficult circumstances through which the country was passing.

I- ENVIRONMENTAL CONTEXT

A. Country Situation:

In 1990, Lebanon experienced the peak of a 15-year political crisis and internal rounds of intensive fighting. The armed conflict was compounded by the dramatic regional war in the Gulf. These crises triggered severe deterioration in economic and social conditions. However, the fourth quarter of the year witnessed a new move toward an era of peace, stability, hope and reconstruction.

The fierce fighting which broke-out at the end of January 1990 in the Eastern part of Beirut and neighboring regions endured 4 months. It inflicted tremendous losses and substantial damages. Over 1,500 were dead and 3,500 wounded, including hundreds crippled/disabled for life. About 100,000 persons fled the country. Some 24,000 families were displaced to other regions of the country, in addition to 8,000 families displaced within the zones of combat. Destruction/damage to public infra-structure and private property were estimated at over US$. 500 million. About 25,000 housing units were damaged, including nearly 5,000 completely lost. Some 175 industries in addition to several important commercial centers and hundreds of shops destroyed. As many as 20,000 cars were burnt/wrecked.

The situation was further aggravated by the Gulf crisis which began in August and the sudden up-rooting and return of 55,000 Lebanese who were dislodged, lost their jobs and impoverished. The Gulf crisis precipitated tremendous losses on Lebanon's economy in jobs, remittances, frozen/lost funds in Kuwait banks, lost trade with the Gulf region, and substantial increases in energy costs. Because Lebanon's economy has been so hard-hit by the Gulf crisis, Lebanon has been deemed in great need and, therefore, proclaimed eligible for inclusion on the list of countries, whose economies were materially shaken by the crisis, for special international aid.

On October 13, 1990 the most intensive armed conflict flared-up. It led to more casualties, displacement, poverty and diseases among the civilian population and to overwhelming material damages.

At present, an estimated 425,000 persons face severe hardship because they are unable to secure basic necessities, such as shelter, food, clothing and health services. Many of these are among the 750,000 or so internally displaced persons who have experienced little change in their living conditions - the past two years.

The country's deteriorating economy featured continued sharp devaluation of the national currency, drastic reduction in purchasing power, growing public deficit, alarming rate of unemployment, spiralling cost of living and wide-spread poverty.

In the aftermath of the mid-October military struggle for power, the country began to move gradually into a new era of peace, stability and reconstruction.

B- YMCA Response:

The YMCA responded with a range of programs, including the medical assistance program especially designed to assist the chronically ill, among the needy and displaced, with urgently required essential medicines.

The provision of necessary medications with appropriate diagnosis and treatment was effected in collaboration with a country-wide network of 110 licensed dispensaries and 39 institutions (social welfare institutions, not-for-profit hospitals, and other health facilities). The recipients received medicines in kind and free-of-charge in view of their dire economic need and to alleviate the increasingly heavy burden of the cost of such essential medicines. They were not beneficiaries of any government or private medical insurance scheme or program.

This report relates the progress achieved in program implementation as well as the main problems encountered during calendar year 1990.

II- PERFORMANCE STATISTICS

Performance during this reporting period (01.01 to 31.12.1990) could be summarized as follows:

(A) - Total number of individual dispensaries:	110
- Total number of treatments through dispensaries:	274,026
- Total number of treatments provided to chronic patients:	119,966
- Total number of chronically ill patients assisted through dispensaries:	26,577

.../5

- Total number of treatments provided to non-chronic patients:	154,060
(B) - Total number of individual institutions (social welfare institutions, hospitals and health centers):	39
- Total number of patients assisted through institutions:	11,701
- Total number of families who received Para-medical assistance:	2,000
(C) - Total value of assistance	US$. 1,645,992.-
. Dispensaries:	US$. 1,304,022.-
. Institutions and families:	US$. 341,970.-

III- BENEFICIARIES: DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT

During the year under review, a total of 26,577 ill patients benefited from the medical assistance program through the country-wide network of dispensaries. These patients became recipients of essential medicines from the program, on the basis of need only, regardless of sectarian, ethnic, political, age, gender or territorial differences. On the basis of the set of eligibility criteria, uniformly applied across the country to ensure equity, the beneficiaries have fallen within one of seven categories, as reflected in the following table:

TABLE

PROGRAM BENEFICIARIES BY ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Criterion		Beneficiaries	Percentage
No.	Description	No.
1	Needy widow, needy elderly-living alone	7,877	30
2	Socio-economic cases (e.g. where the cost of medicines constitutes 50% or more of all earnings).	5,641	21
3	Unemployed	5,503	21
4	Family of 5 or more members subsisting at or below minimum wage	3,575	13
5	Needy disabled	1,947	7
6	Family with one disabled and chronically ill member subsisting at total earnings of less than US$.50 per month	1,572	6
7	Poverty stricken single parent family sustaining one or more orphans	462	2
Total		26,577	100

In addition to these 26,577 patients, the program assisted with medicines 11,701 patients through institutions. Moreover, it provided para-medical assistance to 2,000 families.

While experience varied by locality-based dispensary, there has been a general rise in service for the chronically ill.

The total number of treatments provided with essential medicines from the program reached 274,026 by year end. Of these 119,966 treatments were offered to 26,577 chronic patients and 154,060 treatments to non-chronic patients. In this context, it should be pointed out that many individuals had one or more chronic conditions.

All chronic patients were followed-up by specialized doctors who determined treatment and the next visit of the patient. If any medicine had to be changed, this was reported to the YMCA Medical Department, where a new assessment of the needed medicines was reviewed and change promptly instituted.

In anticipation of changes in treatment, the Medical Department advanced dispensaries with an extra quantity of medicines to enable them respond promptly to changes in treatment as they occur.

. Appendix 1 shows the Dollar value of medicines provided by the program through dispensaries.

The cost of patient treatment at affiliated dispensaries averaged about US$. 4.76.

IV- FINANCIAL ASPECTS

A. Participating Donor Agencies:

The activities of the YMCA Medical Assistance Program for the year of 1990 were supported by funds and medicines in kind from the following sources:

- . Government of Canada through UNDRO.
- . Government of the German Federal Republic through UNDRO.
- . DIAKONIA.
- . MAP International.
- . Interchurch Medical Assistance Inc. (IMA).
- . Norwegian YMCA.
- . Christian Solidarity International (CSI).
- . Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA).
- . U.S. Agency for International Development (AID).
- . Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance (OFDA/USAID) through YMCA of USA.
- . World Alliance of YMCAs.
- . YMCA of the USA.
- . YMCA of UK.
- . "Y" Care International.
- . Local Contributors.

B. Procurement of Medicines:

Our Medical Department, applying the YMCA standard procurement procedures (previously communicated to the participating donor agencies) and based on its continuous monitoring of the market prices and needs of the leading collaborating dispensaries operating throughout Lebanon, was able to procure the most necessary medicines for patients suffering from chronic illnesses and other seasonal illnesses at competitive prices. Due to the difficult security situation and the closure of the Beirut and Jounieh sea ports, the YMCA had to adjust its policies and to utilize alternative legal ports at times when the local market experienced great shortages or absolute lack of certain medicines. Thus the YMCA was able to keep on responding promptly to the needs of the patients.

C. Distribution of Medicines:

During the period from January 01 till December 31, 1990 the total value of medicines provided to the target population amounted to US$. 1,645,992.- The bulk of assistance valued at US$. 1,304,022.- was administered through 110 dispensaries, and the amount of US$. 341,970.- was disbursed on medicines channelled via 39 institutions and for para-medical assistance to 2,000 families.

The unit cost to the program per patient treatment at partner dispensaries averaged about US$. 4.76.

V- MANAGEMENT & DELIVERY SYSTEMS:

A. Management at National Level:

Program management at the national level is outlined in the Medical Department Organizational Chart, Appendix 3.

B. Field Delivery System:

The field delivery system encompassed two country-wide networks as sub-systems. The first consisted of 110 active dispensaries located in overpopulated urban and rural areas, with high incidence of chronic illness, across the country. The geographic distribution of these dispensaries is reflected on Map # 1, Appendix 4.

The second ensured efficient and effective delivery of emergency assistance in the form of medicines through 39 institutions (social welfare institutions, hospitals, and other health facilities). The territorial spread of these institutions is shown on Map # 2, Appendix 5.

These non-profit, non-governmental, licensed and registered dispensaries and institutions have been able to provide proper treatment following diagnosis by specialized physicians under their auspices and to deliver sorely needed life-saving medicines accordingly, despite hardships and problems caused by devastating rounds of intensive and prolonged armed conflict.

The above figures are confined to active dispensaries and institutions in the course of the 12 months under review. They do not include the other numerous dispensaries and institutions inactivated this year by heavy physical damages, because they were located in combat zones.

The repair and rehabilitation of these facilities, which had a high performance track record prior to January 1990, are on the agenda of priorities of another YMCA/L intervention, namely the humanitarian assistance program especially designed to restore war-affected social welfare and non-profit health institutions. This USAID-funded program provides also emergency assistance (e.g., food, clothing, sleeping materials) to members of vulnerable groups (e.g., orphans, widows, disabled, elderly).

A number of new dispensaries, on the other hand, satisfactorily met program eligibility criteria and enrolled as partners in the system to help the population suffering from one or more chronic conditions.

All partner dispensaries and institutions have, with YMCA/L Medical Department assistance, developed special chronic disease units. Clinical diagnosis remained a major control method. Referral of patients for treatment during acute episodes to the outpatient departments of hospitals, where patients paid a nominal fee, received warranted attention.

C. Up-grading Dispensaries' Capabilities:

Health manpower development through orientation, on-the-job training, and problem solving workshops became increasingly an important integral part of the program.

Field staff of the YMCA/L Medical Department worked closely with managers of partner dispensaries on how to better organize dispensary work and operations. The health manpower development thrust also aimed at up-grading the knowledge, skills, and behavior of key categories of personnel and volunteers, particularly part-time physicians, para-medical workers and indigenous auxiliaries manning dispensaries with a view to improve performance specifically in relation to the program.

Special attention was devoted to quality of service, patient training, management of medicines, and recording and reporting of relevant essential information. The field staff provided stimulation, guidance, and support as needed. The varied activities targeted to help make the services of local affiliates optimally effective in meeting people's needs.

This field staff input in the area of health manpower development proved highly successful, with ample evidence that substantiates recent significant improvement in current practice.

D. Information System: Case Illustration:

The Amshit Dispensary on the coastal town of Amshit, Byblos qada, provides an illustrative case of the 110 partner dispensaries.

The program assisted 365 patients through this dispensary during the period under review. Patients' eligibility for assistance with medicines was based on a set of 7 criteria (see description in section on beneficiaries).

The Amshit Dispensary computerized data base lists every one of the 365 patients by name, eligibility criterion, date and place of birth, and name and quantity of medicine(s) delivered by reference, as reflected in Appendix 6, a sample print-out.

This computerized record is one of the principal devices used to maintain baseline data, monitor progress, and achieve control and accountability.

VI- PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED

As already stated, several dispensaries were either completely or partially destroyed. Respective patients, remaining in war zones, were referred to other affiliated dispensaries or institutions nearest their residence/shelter.

During episodes of heavy shelling, however, patients were afraid to go out of their shelters, often underground, ill-equipped and unhealthy. Displaced patients who fled away for safety, were served promptly through affiliated dispensaries in places of temporary refuge. Patients' names were communicated to the YMCA, who readjusted their files and provided them with medicines to their new places of temporary refuge.

Warfare hindered the movement of physicians and other health service providers. Sometimes, they could not reach the work place at dispensary sites because of devastating clashes.

There emerged a severe shortage of medicines in the local market during the tight blockade, enforced for several months. Shipment to Beirut of imported medicines by air or sea was practically impossible.

Transportation costs soared due to sharp rise in petrol prices. However, for patients such hardship was significantly mitigated by the fact that their essential medicines were available at their respective decentralized, community-based dispensaries.
